

JOINS A.V.V.S. STAFF—C. C. Eldert, 66 Chester street, who has resigned from the Balaclava Street Public School staff, effective the end of June, is to teach grade Nine mathematics at Arthur Voaden Vocational School starting next September, Vocational School Principal Stuart Fenwick has announced. Born and brought up in St. Thomas, Mr. Eldert has been teaching in public schools here since 1935, and has been on the Balaclava staff since 1949. Mr. Eldert, who holds a Bachelor of Arts degree, is now studying to obtain a Department of Education high school assistant's certificate, which he requires for his new teaching post. Mr. Eldert, a World War II veteran, holds a captaincy in the Elgin Regiment (27th Armored) and has served several years as adjutant—(T.-J. Photo).
